

As a public authority and stewards of public funds received from the Federal Aviation Administration, the Columbus Regional Airport Authority (“CRAA”) and its staff have restraints and obligations with respect to receiving gifts and gift giving. To ensure compliance with those standards and to operate in a fair and transparent manner, CRAA staff cannot accept (and may return or donate) all gifts they receive from any source other than CRAA. In addition, charitable donations or contributions in the name of CRAA or its employees are not permitted.

CRAA extends our thanks to each of our business partners for your work and dedication to ensuring that CRAA fulfills its vision. Thank you in advance for your cooperation regarding our No Gift Policy.